

Australian Graduate Survey Information

Congratulations on successfully completing your studies here at Australian Lutheran College [ALC].

In April each year we survey new graduates as part of the Australian Graduate Survey [AGS]. This is a national survey coordinated by Graduate Careers Australia [GCA] together with participating higher education institutions. It is designed to collect information about the experience of each student during their course and the type of work or further study being undertaken after completing a course.

Responses

The more responses we receive, the more accurate ALC is in monitoring and enhancing the quality of our courses to provide informed advice to our students about Lutheran Church of Australia career opportunities.

For your information, responses are regarded as being positive or negative: if you choose Strongly Agree or Agree they are regarded as positive and if you choose from Neutral, Disagree or Strongly Disagree they are regarded as negative.

Confidentiality

Your response to the survey is confidential. All survey reports are aggregated and no information that identifies you personally is disclosed. Your identifying information will be separated from the data set and will only be used to remove you from any follow up list

Distribution of Survey

In April ALC will email all graduates and invite them to participate in this survey. We would be most grateful if you could take time to complete the survey to assist our future students.

ALC Principal John Henderson writes: 'ALC is a learning community that wants and needs to change as it listens to the voices of students, including those who have graduated. By responding to our graduate survey you help us to design courses for the future, and to equip people for service in the church and the world in the name of Jesus'.
