Student representatives on ALC committees

Purpose

Student representatives on Australian Lutheran College (ALC) committees are elected annually by the processes outlined by the ALC Student Representative Association (ASRA) constitution. The constitution may be accessed on the ALC website: www.alc.edu.au/assets/About/How-we-work/ALC-Student-Representative-Association-Constitution.pdf

The student representatives are voting members of the respective committees and participate in their own right. They also represent the views of the student body as appropriate.

The specific committee, together with the student member, refers to the role description for the student representative. For new committees, the committee and student co-author the role description.

Responsibilities

The student representatives hold office for the duration of term of their election.

Student representatives are to attend all required meetings of the respective committees unless an apology has been given beforehand. Attendance of proxy representatives may also be negotiated with the committee chair.

The student representatives report back to the student body as outlined in the ASRA constitution.

Names of the student representatives are notified by ASRA to the Office of Dean (OD). The OD notifies chairs of the relevant committees and the Principal as soon as possible after election.

Committees

Student representatives are nominated for the following ALC committees:

- Leadership Team
- Academic Committee
- Women’s Auxiliary Committee

Brief committee descriptors

Leadership Team

The Leadership Team was formally established in January 2011 as the core group to assist the Principal in leadership and oversight of the operations and development of ALC. The ASRA chairperson will represent the students on this committee.

Academic Committee

The Academic Committee was formally established in December 2017 to work together with the Dean on academic issues and matters to meet the University of Divinity (UD) requirements. The student representative must be in at least their third year at ALC.

Women’s Auxiliary

The ALC Women’s Auxiliary is an auxiliary of ALC and is responsible to the ALC Leadership Team and the Lutheran Women of Australia for its actions.
